How Medical Assistance helps Kansans:

- Early diagnosis means better treatment at lower costs
- Regular health care helps seniors and persons with disabilities live independently
- Fewer emergency room visits mean lower health insurance costs for all
- Helps with the cost for Medicare programs

Who qualifies?

People qualify if they are Kansas residents and are U.S. citizens or documented non-U.S. citizens. They must have limited income and assets, and be in one of these groups:

- Persons 65 or over
- Persons with disabilities, including children
- Persons with Medicare

What does it cost?

- Costs depend on your income
- Some people will have a cost, such as a premium or co-payment

- ▶ If you are applying for someone 65 or over or an adult or child with a disability, use the Application for Medical Assistance for the Elderly and Persons with Disabilities.
- ▶ If you are applying for a family with children, use the Application for Medical Assistance for Families with Children.
